The wonderful increase in the sale of ready-to-wear Clothing during the last few years has been marvelous.

Our finest and most fastidious dressers claim they can get more style and a better fit in the "High Art" Ready-to-wear Clothing of to-day than the so-called tailor-made—besides being infinite ly cheaper.

We are sole agents for this celebrated and we invite the few who still cling to the old time idea that their suits must be cut and made to order, to pay our clothing room a visit and allow us to slip a coat on them. A special invitation is given slim men. We have a line of suits made to fit you. If you would see something of beauty and have joy forever drop in and see our spring stock. J. H. ANDERSON & CO.

DEAR SIR, I sent you a poem last week on "The Beautiful Snow" and asked you to publish it. You declined, and returned it to me with the unkind reply that I was not poet, and that you could turn out better poetry of a sausage machine. Now I won't be crushed, so publish this and give me full advertising rates for it.

THE POEM.

I stood upon the ocean's sandy beach,
And with a reed I wrote upon the sand these words
"Agnes, I love thee."
But the winds came, and the waves rolled mountain high,
And blotted out the fair impression.
Cruel waves! treacherous sands! fragile reed!
No longer will I trust thee;
But from the highest mountain peak
I'll pluck the tallest pine,
And dipped in the crater of Vesuvius, with it I will write
Upon the high and burnished heavens these tender words:

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce.

THE MINNESOTA delegation like that of Rhode Island will be held for Cleveland.

The Georgetown Times desires having started the "Alabama" war, that it is footing around the State press in relation to that paper.

Uncle Joe Reed, Doorkeeper of the Senate, is on his death bed at Louisville and there are already a number of candidates for his place.

Mr. Mills has only to walk across from one side of the Capitol to the other to take his seat in the Senate, but he has to walk $2,000 miles.

Mr. Candler evidently considers himself a very much overworked man, as one of his hobbies is to be a slave to have Christian county another Representative.

Jack Collier, the original Hill man of Kentucky, has nominated John H. Hill for a delegate at large. Mr. Hill is a deserving Democrat but the Hill men will hardly pick delegates to Chicago.

Tom Gardner, President of the Kentucky State Union, who was elected, it was understood at the time, on a platform of non-partisanship, has cut loose from the Democratic Union and is trying to take the F. & L. U. with him into the State recently formed at St. Louis. He hardly thought this of Mr. Gardner, who has turned a complete amateur since he was elected last year.

Hon. Roger Q. Mills was on Tuesday elected Senator from Texas for the unexpired term of 11 months. Senator Clinton, who is mourning by appointment, withdrew his name, and he could not be elected, and the vote for Mr. Mills was unanimous. As the Senate was the goal of his ambition his defeat for the speaking has turned out to be a blessing in disguise. Of course Mr. Mills will remain in the Senate as long as he wants to, but he is not the brainiest man in Texas but the most popular Congressman of the Mississippi river.

The primary election in Louisiana to determine which of two Democratic state tickets should withdraw, resulted in the triumph of the McEnery ticket by 8,000 votes over the Foster ticket. The vote will be remembered, split on the latter question. Ex-Gov. McEnery was nominated by the wing opposed to opening the question, or renouncing it, but he is personally an anti-slavery man and at present a Judge of the State Supreme Court.

Louisville May 26.

The Democratic Committee has fixed the time and place for the state convention. Following is the official call:

"First.—That for the purpose of selecting two delegates from each Congressional district and four delegates from the State-at-large to represent Kentucky in the Democratic national convention, to be held at Chicago on June 21, 1892, the State convention is hereby called to meet at Louisville, at 2 o'clock p. m., on May 25, next.

Second.—Representation in the State convention shall be by one delegate for each 250 votes or fraction of over 100 votes cast for Governor in the August election, 1891.

Third.—Delegates to the State convention shall be chosen by each county and each city legislative district at 2 o'clock p. m., on the 14th day of May, 1892, by meetings of the county Democratic at their respective county houses, and by meeting of the city legislative district Democratic at such points within the respective city legislative districts as may be chosen by the action of the city legislative district committees. Each county and each city legislative district committee shall be convened by its chairman or secretary at 6 o'clock p. m., on the 7th day of May and arrange for carrying into effect these resolutions.

It was further suggested that the next meetings be held on May 11, which should elect one delegate for each twenty Democratic votes of the precinct to the county convention, May 14, but this matter was left optional with the county committees.

In this county unless there is a general demand for primaries the delegates will be chosen at a mass convention at the court house on Saturday, May 14. Christian will be entitled to delegates, the total number being 177.

LEGISLATIVE.

Alex. H. Hargis was elected senator from the 34th district on the 21st inst.

to succeed his father, the late J. S. Hargis.

A bill has been introduced to fix the Governor's salary at $5,000 and also on pension.

Gov. Brown has signed the bill providing western convicts to be sold.

The delegation now being shown in this county will, therefore, take a short ride to prison.

The House has annulled the McCain bill, opening the breaks to all layers alike. This will send it back to the Senate and there is hope that the measure may never again get the necessary 20 votes.

Pinet Knob.

Situated about eleven miles north-east of Hopkinsville and half way between the roads leading to Kirmansville and Pilot Rock is a place visited by few on account of so little being known of it, and on account of its inaccessibility, yet for its beauty and picturesque it is far superior to anything in Christian county, and is not surpassed by any in the eastern portion of the State. One autumn day when nature was robed in her loveliest garb, the writer with a number of congenial friends visited this spot. The approach from the east is up a steep incline covered with forest trees and boulders jutting from the surface of the earth, but when you reach the summit a scene as grand and inspiring breaks upon the view as that witnessed by Daniel Boone when he stood upon the peaks of the Alleghenies and viewed for the first time the dark and lovely ground. The south and western portion of the Knob rises from one hundred and fifty to two hundred feet above the level of the earth and is composed of a layer upon layer of large sandstone rocks with scrubby pines growing in crevices that give to it its name. On the south side there is a series of ridges and the connecting with the base and ending only with the summit called Indian steps that some few persons fond of daring and adventurous delight in climbing. On the west side about seventy-five feet from the base and approachable through an opening in the rock so narrow as to make it difficult of access, there is a large and deep cave, whose full light has never been explored. Years ago tradition tells us that the Virginians used this cavern as a place in which to store their gunpowder, and as a refuge in the highlands of Scotland could have had a place more secure and dangerous of approach than this. Here a handful of determined men could resist the attacks of an army. Later on it was used by a man fond of leading a Robinson Crusoe kind of life as a home. He fitted up the cave in the style of a kitchen and had a stove, a table, and a bed, and he lived in the highlands of Scotland could have had a place more secure and dangerous of approach than this.
